DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

The applicants amended the application to include a claim of priority under 35 U.S.C. §120 as a continuation of co-pending applications 08/857,836 and 08/872,729 (see the amendment filed 6/3/02, PTO paper #4). However, it is noticed that the present application combines the teachings of the applications `836 and `729. Therefore, the present application can at most be a continuation-in-part of the applications `836 and `729.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 14 is objected to because of the following informalities: the last word "signals" should be changed to –signal--. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 7-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

The applicants are requested to point out which portion of the specification has support on the claimed limitation in claim 7.

- 5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
  The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
- 6. Claims 2, 3, and 14-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claims 2 and 14-20, claim 2 recites the limitation "a switched impulse generator includes one of an impulse-excited oscillator and a UWB impulse generator" in lines 3-4. In the situation that the switched impulse generator includes an impulse-excited oscillator, it is not clear how the subsequent limitation "a filter responsive to said impulse generator" would operate. Further, claim 2 recites the limitation "said waveform adapter" in line 7. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Art Unit: 2634

Regarding claims 3 and 21-28, claim 3 recites the limitation "said waveform-adapted, ultra-wideband signal" in lines 8-9 and 10-11. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. Further, claim 23 recites the limitation "said waveform adapting" in lines 1-2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. Claim 25 recites the limitation "the echo" in line 3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

8. Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by McEwan (US Patent 5,521,600).

Regarding claim 2, McEwan teaches a communication system utilizing an ultrawideband transmitter, said system comprising:

a switched impulse generator (16, 15, 12 in Fig. 1) including one of an impulseexcited oscillator and a UWB impulse generator to generate a low-level ultra-wideband signal;

a filter (17, 10 in Fig. 1) responsive to said impulse generator;

an antenna (11 in Fig. 1) responsive to said filter to radiate a representation of said ultra-wideband signal; and a receiver (21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 33 in Fig. 1) for receiving said radiated ultra-wideband signal.

Regarding claim 3, McEwan teaches a method fro detecting an object utilizing ultra-wideband transmitting techniques, said method comprising:

generating a switched impulse, low-level ultra-wideband signal (16, 15, 12 in Fig. 1); filtering said switched impulse, low-level ultra-wideband signal (17, 10 in Fig. 1); radiating (11 in Fig. 1) upon said object (20 in Fig. 1) a signal representing said filtered, ultra-wideband signal; and receiving (21 in Fig. 1) an echo of said radiated, waveform adapted, ultrawideband signal thereby to detect said object (33 in Fig. 1). Application/Control Number: 09/251,297 Page 6

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

10. Claims 14 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McEwan (US Patent 5,521,600) in view of Ross et al. (US Patent 5,337,054) and Nicolson et al. (US Patent 3,983,422).

Regarding claim 14, as described above with respect to claims 2, McEwan teaches the claimed invention except a tunnel diode is used to detect the ultra-wideband signal. However, a tunnel diode threshold ultra-wideband receiver has been widely used in the art. An example may be seen in Ross et al. (see abstract). Further, Nicolson et al. (US Patent 3,983,422) teaches the use of a tunnel diode in a detector has the advantage of being a device which is commercially available with specified parameters (col. 1, lines 57-60). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate a tunnel diode into the receiver of McEwan for the advantage described above.

Regarding claim 21, as described above with respect to claims 3, McEwan teaches the claimed invention except a tunnel diode is used to detect the ultra-wideband signal. However, a tunnel diode threshold ultra-wideband receiver has been widely used in the art. An example may be seen in Ross et al. (see abstract). Further, Nicolson et al. (US Patent 3,983,422) teaches the use of a tunnel diode in a detector has the advantage of being a device which is commercially available with specified parameters (col. 1, lines 57-60). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate a tunnel diode into the receiver of McEwan for the advantage described above.

Response to Arguments

11. Applicant's arguments filed 2/3/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The applicants argue that McEwan`600 does not teach a filter. The filter or filtering limitation is being understood to embrace devices and methods that limit, alter, or control the frequency or frequency range of the emitted UWB signal.

Examiner' response – McEwan clearly teaches that the burst is generated with a first low frequency  $f_L$  and a second high frequency  $f_H$  (see col. 5, lines 24-25). Therefore, elements 10 and 17 of McEwan clearly can be viewed as a filter to control the frequency of the UWB signal.

Allowable Subject Matter

12. Claims 1, 4, 6 and 10-13 are allowed.
